

As a flight attendant I can assure you that allowing the use of cell phones in flight would be a huge mistake. Not only would it be detrimental to our safety but it would make those passengers not talking on their cell phones miserable.